

Ambulance services using Consultant Connect to improve communication

These four Ambulance services have all embraced the use of Consultant Connect's communication platform to enhance their services, making things easier for their staff and most importantly, improving the patient's experience.

Scottish Ambulance Service - NHS Lanarkshire

How?

Paramedics in Lanarkshire use the Consultant Connect App or a Dial-In Number to access a wide range of specialties in the area. The majority of calls in Lanarkshire are made to Emergency Medicine, Falls Pathway, FNC, Geriatric Medicine, and the GP Out of Hours Hub.

Performance

76% of calls to acute specialties in NHS Lanarkshire have resulted in the patient avoiding a trip to hospital and being signposted to the right community or hospital facility.

South Central Ambulance Service NHS Foundation Trust

How?

SCAS 999 Clinical Support Desk and Operational teams can access immediate advice from a team of experienced GPs and specialist consultants across 6 specialties.

Performance

80% of calls to GPs have resulted in a decision to treat the patient outside of hospital.

13% of calls to specialty teams have resulted in patients being admitted to ED either by Ambulance or their own transport.

West Midlands Ambulance Service University NHS Foundation Trust

How?

Paramedics can call local frailty consultants and elective care specialists, who are able to triage patients and direct them to the right place, first time.

Performance

65% of calls have resulted in the patient being triaged to ED or frailty teams.

Scottish Ambulance Service - NHS Tayside

How?

Paramedics in Tayside use the Consultant Connect App or a Dial-In Number to contact the Flow Navigation Centre, GP Out of Hours Hub, Covid Assessment Unit, and Stroke Medicine specialists. Often this can help find alternatives to ED attendance for patients who call 999, which is in line with NHS Scotland's Right Care, Right Place model.

Performance

34% of calls to acute specialties in NHS Tayside have resulted in the patient avoiding a trip to hospital and being signposted to the right community or hospital facility.
